Charles S. Barnes, the popular W. P. & Y. R. conductor, returned from Fairbanks last night. He comes back with unlimited faith in the town and the Tanana district, but he says there are enough people there now and to spare. . He says, also, that the camp will get better, as more creeks are

Mr. Barnes says:

"There will be several creeks paying next year that are only being prospected at the present time. In addition to Cleary and Fairbanks creeks Esther, Dome, Gilmore, Ready Bullion and probably Cripple creeks will be pro-

"Business is good at Fairbanks in most lines. The only people I heard complain were saloon men and gamblers. The latter are objecting more because they were beaten so often rather than because of lack of play.

"All the Skagway fellows in there seem to be doing pretty well."

Mr. Barnes says one of the draw backs to the Tanana country now is the immense quantity of litigation going on. "Everything," he says, "is tied up with a cordon of lawsuits.

'The recent decision by Judge Wickersham that the claim mu-t go to the man who discovered the gold irrespective of who staked it will result in clarifying the atmosphere and give the miners an opportunity to get the titles to properties cleared up before long," said Mr. Barnes.
